

Do fiberglass cable trays need corrosion protection

Overview

Unlike traditional steel trays, FRP cable trays do not rust or corrode, require no grounding, and have excellent fire and UV resistance for long, maintenance-free service. High Corrosion Resistance: No rusting in acid, saline or chemical atmospheres. Let's dive in and find the best solution for you. There's the cost of the new trays, plus the. A fiberglass cable tray is a cable support system manufactured from fiber-reinforced plastic (FRP). Designed specifically for challenging environments where traditional materials fail—such as offshore platforms, chemical plants, and wastewater. Our Fiberglass Cable Tray gives you the load capacity of steel, plus the inherent characteristics afforded by Pultrusion Technology: non-conductive, non-magnetic, and corrosion-resistant. Made from fiberglass-reinforced plastic (FRP), it offers superior strength, lightweight design, and resistance to harsh environmental.

Do fiberglass cable trays need corrosion protection

Like fiberglass trays, these composite solutions offer excellent resistance to corrosion, fire, and chemical exposure, providing an alternative when long-term reliability is critical.
