

How much does a single-fiber optical module cost

Overview

The cost of single-mode fiber optic cables is influenced by factors such as construction type 7, application, and additional features. Bulk cables typically cost between $2.00 per foot, with variations for pre-terminated and armored options 8. A single mode 10G SFP+ module is the most practical choice when you need stable, long-distance 10G fiber connectivity without sacrificing compatibility or future scalability. For most enterprise networks, data centers, and service providers, it offers the best balance between transmission distance. Free Shipping with $189 Order.
